The screenshot shows a website layout with several sections. On the left, there's a vertical decorative scroll. The main content area includes a featured product 'Silk Stud Print Dress' with a 'View All' link. A large, vibrant, multi-colored abstract image is positioned at the top right of the main content. Below it, there's a quote from BevShots.com: 'An intoxicating blend of art and science, BevShots' vibrant colors and distinctive patterns bring an edgy element to any room.—BevShots.com'. Further down, there's a paragraph about 'microphotographs' and another about making contemporary art affordable. A search bar and a 'Go' button are located on the right side. Below the search bar is an 'Archives' section with a list of months from September 2009 to February 2008. The website has a decorative, ornate background pattern.

Turning your FAV cocktail into modern art is exactly what BevShots is all about, taking 'cheers' to a whole new level!

Utilizing a light microscope, magnification and crystallizing your drink of choice, this technique offers a unique view on beverages. When captured in this fashion, the 'microphotographs' have a distinct creative edge that leaves you wanting to tap into your own artistic genius to craft your own compelling, conversation-worthy piece!!

Making contemporary art both affordable and customizable, what could be more LUX?? You have the option to choose from a variety of beer, cocktail and wine preferences. Whether you want to select one from their existing gallery or create your own, both offer you a distinctive design to meet any traditional or modern décor. LUX Nation what are your thoughts? Does BevShots inspire you to turn your favorite cocktail into your own personalized wall art? Art.Life.LUX.
